CITY INJUNCTION TO STOP

WOOD CUTTING—$20,000 SUIT

The City of Norwich, through Corporation Counsel Edwin W. Higgins, on Friday secured a temporary injunction granted by Judge Charles B. Waller of the court of common pleas, restraining the board of water commissioners from any further attempted execution of the contract made February 15, 1919, with Ignatius J. Murphy relating to the cutting and removal of timber from the city's watersheds. The injunction further restrains Walter W. Lang and Ignatius J. Murphy from cutting, hauling or removing any wood on lands owned by the city and from removing from lands owned by the city any timber either sawed or cut, until the matter has been threshed out in the superior court.

City Claims $20,000 Damages. Damages of $20,000 are claimed by the city from Walter W. Lang and Ignatius J. Murphy, the complaint charging that Mr. Lang "did sell for, and on his own account, or that of said Murphy certain cord wood, poles, ties, sawed timber and peavees cut and taken from the watersheds owned by the city, without fully accounting to the board of water commissioners of the said city thereof."

Papers Served Friday Evening. Deputy Sheriff Oscar Main, who served the papers on the defendants Friday evening, attached to the value of $20,000 the goods or estate of both Mr. Murphy and Mr. Lang.

The defendants named in the writ are Ignatius J. Murphy, Walter W. Lang, Albert S. Comstock, Hugh Blackledge, Edward Crooks and Patrick P. Bray, all but Mr. Murphy being members of the board of water commissioners, against which board the action is directed. In bringing the action the city asks that the contract made with Mr. Murphy be declared void, that $20,000 damages against Mr. Lang and Mr. Murphy, and such other relief as may be necessary to the interests of the city.

Result of Council's Investigation. The court proceedings are the result of an investigation started recently by the court of common council into the cutting and removal of timber from the city's watersheds. The council requested Mr. Comstock, president of the board to explain the matter in writing to the adjourned meeting of the council held Thursday evening. Mr. Comstock's reply to the council brought to light the contract made with Mr. Murphy and the council then instructed the corporation counsel to take such legal action in the name of the city as may be required to protect the interests of the city in the cutting and sale of any of the timber on the city's watersheds.

The City's Complaint. The city's complaint is as follows: The plaintiff is a municipal corporation duly chartered and organized under the laws of this state and as such owns, operates and maintains under the provisions of its charter watersheds and water sheds in the town of Montville, Connecticut and known as Stony Brook and in the town of Norwich and known as Fairview and Meadow Brook. Edward Crooks, Walter W. Lang and Patrick P. Bray all of said Norwich constitute the board of water commissioners of the city of Norwich and are charged with certain duties and responsibilities in the maintenance of a system of water works for said city under the direction of the court of common council of said city.

On February 15, 1919 the board of water commissioners of said city executed with said Ignatius J. Murphy a certain contract relating to said watersheds, the property of said city.

Said contract has never been approved by the court of common council of said city nor entered into under the direction and with the advice and consent of said court of common council.

The said Walter W. Lang now a member of said board of water commissioners and from some period before the date of said contract, to July 1, 1920, the president charged under the charter of the plaintiff city with the duty of supervising, caring for and managing said water works under the direction of said board and the court of common council of said city did sell for and on his own account or that of said Murphy certain cord wood, poles, ties, sawed timber and peavees cut and taken from the watersheds owned by said city without fully accounting to the board of water commissioners of the said city thereof.

The board of water commissioners of said city in signing the contract alleged herein acted in excess of their powers and unlawfully undertook to sell and dispose of property of great value owned by the said city.

The said Murphy his servants and agents have since the signing of said contract maintained a large saw mill on the property of said city, have cut and sawed a large quantity of chestnut, yellow birch, oak and ash and other trees on the property of said city and do threaten to continue so to do.

Said watersheds the property of said city have by reason of the operation of sawmills thereon and will by their threatened continued operation and their occupation by a large force of men and horses incident to such operation, be injured and become unsanitary, unwholesome and a nuisance.

For good cause shown I am of the opinion that this temporary injunction ought to issue without bond, and therefore direct that it do issue without bond.

home and yield impure water dangerous for the use of the inhabitants of the said city.

The court of common council of said city at an adjourned meeting regularly held on Thursday August 5, 1920, duly passed the following vote: That the corporation counsel be and he hereby is instructed and directed to take such legal action in the name of the city as may be required to protect the interests of the city in the cutting and sale of any of the timber on the city's watersheds owned by the city.

The continued threatened cutting of the city's timber, the maintenance of saw mills, the operation of sawmills, water sheds owned by the city and the execution of said unlawful contract will cause irreparable damage to said city, for which there is no adequate remedy at law.

The plaintiff claims: An injunction restraining the defendants or any of them from further attempted execution of said contract from further cutting or sawing of wood or timber on the lands of the city without the approval of the board of water commissioners and the court of common council.

That judgment be entered annulling and declaring void said attempted contract.

Damages of $20,000 against the defendants Lang and Murphy.

Such other relief as to justice and equity may pertain. Of this writ with your doings thereon make due service and return.
